Mr. W. R. Freeman,
Brighton, Ontario, Canada.

Dear Sir:

In reply to your letter of April 13th I regret to state that we do not know the address of Mrs. Isdahl. Your letter states that you have already written to Mr. Francis A. Foster, her brother, and Mr. Foster would be the one of the family who would know the genealogy.

It is, however, not at all necessary that his ancestry should coincide with yours. In fact it is quite probable that you may have only the immigrant ancestor in common.

May I suggest then that you communicate with a professional genealogist? Many such make their headquarters in our Library, and a directory of a few is herewith enclosed, with the name of one marked who is known to be giving excellent satisfaction to his many clients.

Very truly yours,

Florence Conant Howes

Assistant Secretary.

Dear Sir:

We have two works which touch upon early settlements on Long Island and which may be of interest to you. "The American Colonies in the Eighteenth Century" by H. L. Osgood is a politico-economic history and in chapters dealing with New York mention is made to settlements on Long Island. An earlier work by the same author, "The American Colonies in the Seventeenth Century" which is published by Macmillan, may have information concerning the earliest settlements on the island.

"New York as an Eighteenth Century Municipality," by A. E. Peterson, also touches upon Long Island, particularly the early growth of Brooklyn. This also is mostly a study of the development of governmental institutions.

A circular giving the contents of the Osgood volumes and a catalogue of the Studies in History, Economics and Public Law is enclosed.

We might suggest that you write the New York Public Library for a list of books on the subject you are interested in.

Very truly yours

Dear Sir:

In accordance with your request of July 28th, we are sending you, under separate cover today, a copy of our latest genealogical catalogue, in which you will find listed the genealogy of the Freeman family and a number of books on the Rogers family. However, all of the Rogers books take in the families living in New England and we do not believe that any of them include the Long Island branch. The Freeman Genealogy is not indexed. However if you will send us some of the names of your ancestors who lived in Hanover, New Hampshire, we will be glad to look through the book to see if it contains your line.

Very truly yours,

Dear Sir:

Your letter of the 23rd instant has been received and an examination of the index to the first fifty volumes of our Register does not disclose anything on your Freeman or Rogers families or cemetery records of the districts in which they lived. There is no Consolidated Index for volumes fifty-one to date and a search of each volume would take quite a bit of time. As our staff is small we are unable to do research work for our many correspondents and for your convenience are enclosing a Directory in which may be found the names of several professional genealogists. Should you wish to employ one of these professionals to make any searches for you we ask that you kindly communicate directly with the person you select as the Society has no official connection with these genealogists.

Dear Sir: re: William Rogers, estate, and John Rogers, estate.

I cannot find anything here with reference to William Rogers anywhere near 1825, or subsequent years for many years,

Now with reference to John Rogers, who died about 1856, I do not find anything here.

Perhaps if you searched in the Surrogate Court at Kingston, Ontario, you might find something with reference to your great great grandfather, as I see by your letter he resided at one time at Ernesttown, which is in Frontenac County.

Yours truly,

John T. Field

Dear Sir.

In reply to your inquiry of June 29th,
wish to say our files - that is complete files - go back only as far as 1897. The earlier files were destroyed by fire.

Concerning Deseronto we are unable to give you any information as it is in Prince Edward County. We consulted an official of the Historical Society here and he says so far as his knowledge goes there never was a paper printed at Bath.

We should be pleased to allow you to consult our files anytime you wish.

Dear Sir,

Would you be kind enough to let me know how far back you have issues of your valuable paper?

Mrs. Kapp, Editor of the Ensign here, thought that you might be able to go back to 1856. The object of my enquiry is to try and find a death notice of a John Rogers & Murray, who died about that time, perhaps sooner.

If you think you might have something, I should be very glad to go through them myself and save you the time.

Thanking you for any attention, I am
Yours truly
W. F. Freeman

Dear Sir,-

As The Courier was not printed until 1867, and it was apparently the first paper printed here, I don't know where you will secure the information you require.

However, you are welcome at any time to take a look through the old files. I don't know just what there is up-stairs in this shop in the way of files, but I believe there are a few of the 60s there.

Yours truly,

Harry H. Moore.

The Literary and Historical Society of Quebec was a semi-archival, and even semi-official, repository and publisher of historic documents for exactly one hundred years: from 1824 to 1924. During these hundred years it received various small governmental grants for the publication of documents concerning the history of Canada, and, more particularly, New France and the Province of Quebec.

But in 1924 it published its final, or "Centenary", volume. For, by that time, the development of governmental Archives, whether Provincial or Dominion, had completely taken the place formerly filled by the Society, whose most learned members always gave their services absolutely free. Besides, the total cessation of all governmental grants prevented the Society from continuing any publications whatsoever. It therefore has no current publications for exchange with any other Society.

Moreover, it has transferred all its own archives to its proprietary vault in the Provincial Museum at Quebec. Therefore it cannot now answer any questions on historical documentation, and, above all, genealogy. It still has some originals and reprints of its former publications, which are on sale, as per catalogue, or by information from the Librarian. But it makes no researches whatsoever. Moreover, it no longer buys any such historical items as formerly.

Inquirers whom the Society could formerly answer must now kindly refer to other sources: for instance:—

1. The Public Archives, Ottawa.
2. Archiviste-en-chef, Musée Provincial, Québec.
3. Archiviste, Archevêché de Québec.
4. Archiviste Notarial, Palais de Justice, Québec.

→ N.B. 4. Though the Card Index here is very comprehensive, referring to people of both languages and all religions, yet it is confined to the City and the District of Quebec. There are twenty-five other Notarial districts in this Province.

NOTE:—Inquirers will please kindly remember that all actual research is, of course, a subject for mutual agreement between the inquirers and the researchers whom they employ.

P. S. 1. All the usual information desired by Tourists can be obtained by writing to the Provincial Tourist Bureau, Quebec.

P. S. 2. Inquirers can write in either French or English to all the addresses mentioned above.

Dear Sir:

In reply to your letter of October 3rd,
I cannot help you out regarding your letter. I do know that the Cushing Cemetery is in Woodstock. They must have records there, but probably if you would write Mr. James Brownell, Postmaster at Woodstock, Vermont, and offer to pay him for his trouble he could go over to the cemetery and see if your relatives are buried there.

Yours sincerely,

James F. Dewey.

Dear Sir

Your letter of 9th inst. to hand and am sorry to inform you there is no record of burials in old part of Cemetery

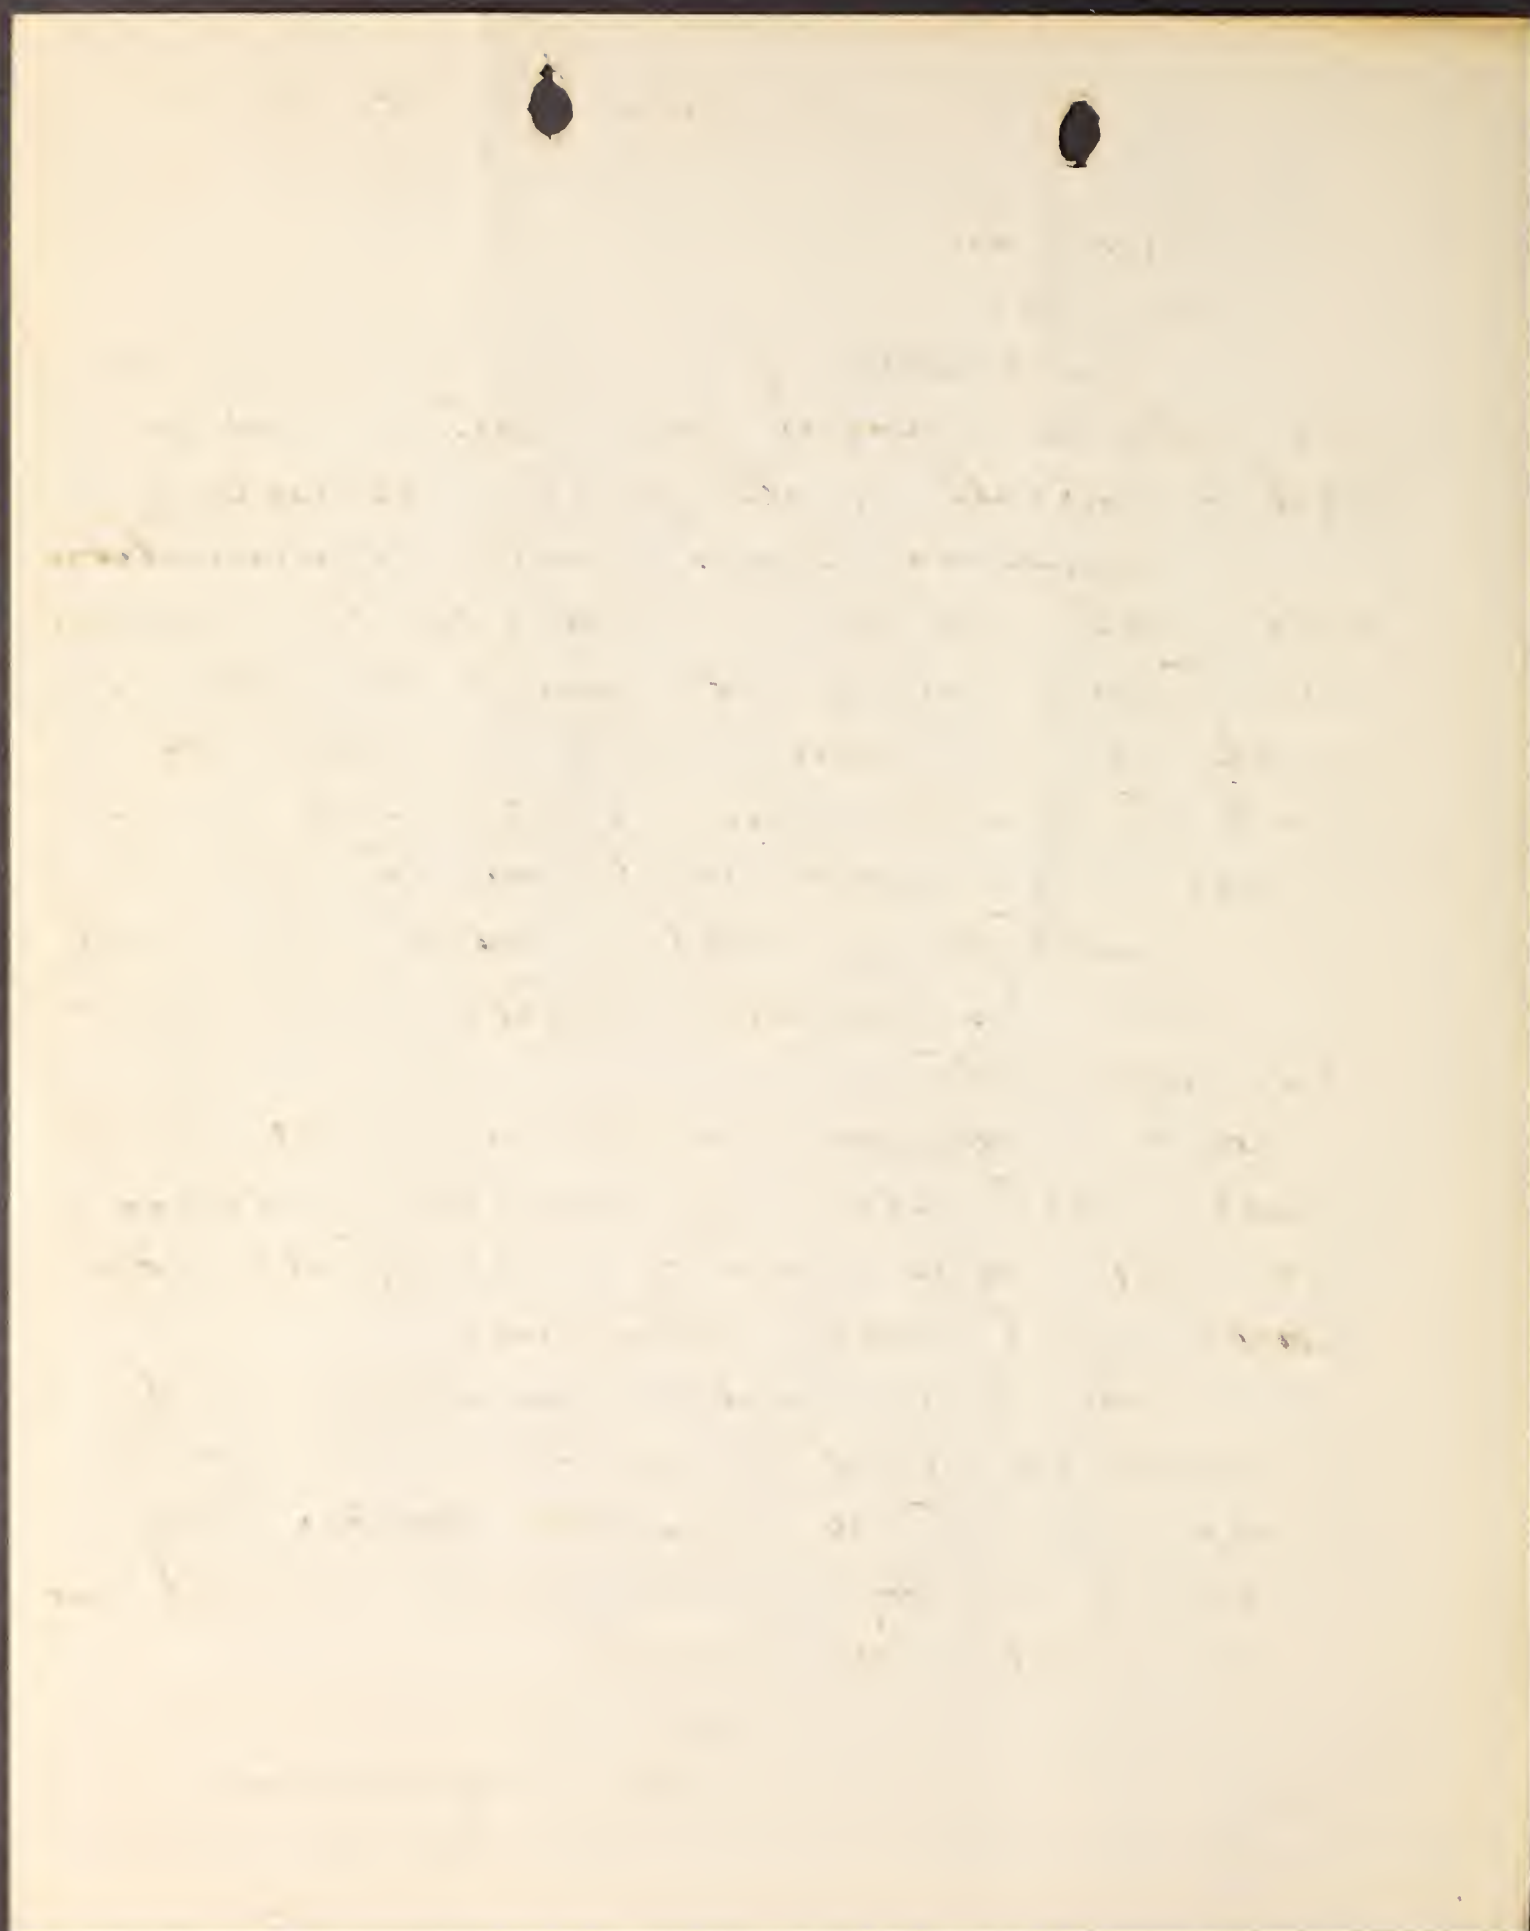

However from your information and with aid of Mr. Hendricks former care taker I think we would be able to locate it in Spring and I would be glad to assist you in any way I can

There is a movement on to get the old Cemetery as well as new cleaned up and I'm afraid there is many unclaimed plots

Many I believe would be eager to get their plots fixed up and kept clean if we had some way of getting ⁱⁿ correspond~~ence~~ with living relatives

I live right next to Cemetery and would be glad to have a chat with you any time you are down this way. Sundays in summer is about the only time I'm away.

Yours Respectfully
